

HENDERSON & WALTON WOMEN'S CENTER, P.C.

IMPORTANT UPDATE Regarding Your Maternity Care Billing

Beginning January 1, 2027

there will be nationwide changes to the way maternity care is billed to insurance companies. These updates are being implemented across healthcare and are intended to better reflect the care provided throughout pregnancy, delivery, and the postpartum period.

What does this mean for you?

Henderson & Walton Women's Center's physicians will continue to deliver the same prenatal, delivery, and postpartum care you expect. However, you may notice some differences, including:

You may receive explanations of benefits (EOBs) from your insurance company that look different than in the past.

Services that were previously grouped together may now appear as separate charges on your insurance statements.

Depending on your insurance plan, your financial responsibility (such as copays, deductibles, or coinsurance) may differ from previous pregnancies.

Insurance companies may process maternity claims differently than they have in prior years.

What you can do.

To help avoid unexpected expenses, we encourage all our OB patients to:

Review your maternity benefits (for both physician and hospital) with your insurance company early in your pregnancy.

Understand your deductible, coinsurance, and out-of-pocket maximum.

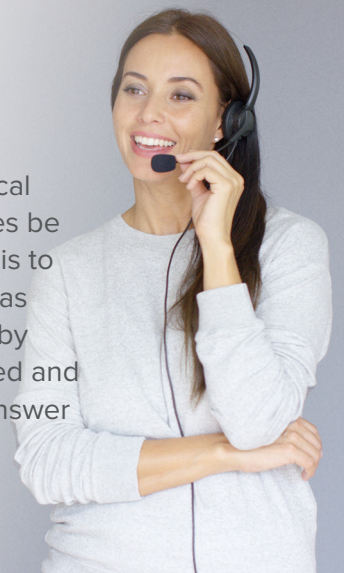

Contact our Billing Department if you have questions regarding statements or insurance processing.

Notify us promptly if your insurance coverage changes during your pregnancy.

We're here to help!

We understand that insurance and medical billing can sometimes be confusing. Our goal is to make this transition as smooth as possible by keeping you informed and being available to answer any questions you may have.

If you have questions about any of these benefits, please contact our Billing Department at (205) 930-1800.
